Welcome to Fort Collins

Whether you are a first-time visitor to Fort Collins or come to town frequently, welcome. No matter how long you plan to stay, you are going to understand why residents find it one great place to be.

Time and again, Fort Collins has been named one of the best places to live in the United States and it’s no mystery why. The city offers more than 300 days of sunshine each year, an abundance of outdoor recreation, unique cultural events, and one of the highest number of restaurants and craft breweries per capita in the nation.

Fort Collins is also home to Colorado State University, one of the nation’s leading research institutions. From performances at the prestigious University Center for the Arts, to leadership in clean energy and environmental science, and Rams game days at Hughes stadium and Moby Arena, CSU’s energy is felt well beyond campus.

Wander through the pedestrian-friendly streets of Old Town, enjoy the newest stores and restaurants on Harmony Road, and at Foothills Shopping Center, take a stroll through CSU’s tree-filled campus, or head to the foothills for an outdoor adventure. Enjoy all the town has to offer.

Pianos About Town (cover)
Sit down, relax and play a tune on one of the many colorfully painted pianos randomly placed throughout Fort Collins and the CSU campus.

Pianos About Town started in 2010 as a collaboration among the Bohemian Foundation, the Downtown Development Authority, the City of Fort Collins, business owners and community members. Donated pianos are paired with a local artist or artist group and from there each artist makes their piano design come to life to bring spontaneous music and local art to the streets of Fort Collins. Since 2010, more than 80 pianos have been collected, decorated and placed into rotation at sites throughout the city.

A city of more than 160,000 residents, Fort Collins continues to be one of the nation’s most attractive cities in which to live. The state’s fourth largest city is 65 miles north of Denver, named for a short-lived military installation established in 1864 on the banks of the Cache la Poudre River, which flows through the city.

Colorado State University makes an intentional, consistent, and annual commitment to the community and region and continues to be the city’s largest employer and a regional economic driver.

Whether it’s watching one of the school’s athletic teams in action or participating in a wide variety of campus events, the University provides a wealth of activities for residents, such as the University Center of the Arts (UCA), the summer Lagoon Concert Series, as well as a variety of lectures throughout the year.

ABOUT FORT COLLINS

Old Town is a collection of 23 historic buildings that served as the model for Disneyland’s Main Street USA. The city’s most recognizable feature is about a mile north of CSU’s main campus with easy access via the MAX line or TransFort bus service. Old Town features unique shopping and more than 80 restaurants and brewpubs as the city’s nightlife hub.

Regarded as one of the nation’s most livable cities, Fort Collins annually ranks among the leaders in surveys of health, fitness and wellness.

The city boasts 600 acres of parks, 30,000 acres of natural areas, 29 miles of hiking and biking trails, a wealth of public golf courses, plus a racquet center, three public swimming pools, an ice rink and several community centers.

Fort Collins has the most microbreweries per capita in Colorado and produces 70 percent of the state’s craft beer. That’s even more impressive when you think that the state is ranked first in the nation for craft breweries per capita, number one in beer volume, and number two in number of craft breweries by state and in craft beer volume.

In 2015, Fort Collins was named one of the top 10 healthiest cities one of the 50 Best College Towns to Live in Forever, and one of America’s Most Innovative Tech Hubs.

Hattie McDaniel, the first African American to win an Oscar for her portrayal of Mammy in the 1939 film Gone with the Wind, lived in Fort Collins as a child.
COMMITMENT TO CAMPUS

You don’t have to look very hard to find Colorado State University’s influence in Fort Collins.

CSU, established just six years after Fort Collins officially came into existence in 1864, long has been the driving force behind the city’s growth and development. Not only is CSU the city’s largest employer, the University and its students are the primary economic and cultural players.

It is a remarkable partnership 145 years in the making, and it has helped both thrive.

CSU’s influence in Fort Collins, however, goes much deeper than simple dollars. Look at the beaming faces of more than 2,500 kids every year as they receive their very own supply-filled backpack from CSU’s School is Cool program. Or watch students work up a sweat collecting food for the needy during the annual Cans Around the Oval celebration. Or feel the community spirit as friends and families gather during the summer for the Lagoon Concert Series.

SCHOOL IS COOL

Like Cans around the Oval, School is Cool is a uniquely CSU initiative that has become an invaluable asset for kids in Poudre School District. The employee-driven program, which began in 1991, provides grade-specific school supplies and new backpacks to PSD to distribute to students based on need. In 23 years, School is Cool has steadily grown and has provided more than 28,000 backpacks to the city’s kids.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

CSU has partnered with the Downtown Business Association to sponsor some of the city’s many popular events and traditions such as New West Fest, the Colorado Brewer’s Festival, downtown concerts, and other popular events.” And, as has been the case for more than a century, CSU prides itself on being the intellectual epicenter of Northern Colorado. The newly launched President’s Lecture Series highlights the University’s outstanding programs and faculty. The series, a gift to the city to celebrate its sesquicentennial, features four annual lectures and invites the public to campus to hear about exciting breakthroughs taking place at CSU.

Founded on the principle of outreach, the University proudly continues that tradition more than 145 years later and continues to explore new ways to strengthen its commitment to Fort Collins.

CANS AROUND THE OVAL

Cans Around the Oval is a great example of CSU and its students taking action on the commitment to outreach through the university’s land-grant mission. Initiated in 1986, Cans Around the Oval has become the largest annual food and fund drive in Northern Colorado, collecting more than 1.7 million pounds of food and $140,000 for the Food Bank of Larimer County.

The Oval is the centerpiece of campus. Surrounded by majestic trees and some of CSU’s oldest buildings, the Oval measures 2,063 feet around.

CSU’s first official school colors were alfalfa and pumpkin – a tribute to the school’s agricultural roots.

Fort Collins, known for its tree-lined streets in and around campus, has been given a Tree City, USA award for the past 33 years.

Peanuts the Bulldog became CSU’s first unofficial mascot in 1912. A ram became the Aggies mascot in 1946, and CAM the Ram became the official mascot in 1954.

The “A” painted on the hill above Hughes Stadium has been an area landmark since 1923. It measures 450 feet high by 210 feet wide.

CSU ATHLETICS

A NEW GAME DAY EXPERIENCE

ATHLETICS
Colorado State University sponsors 16 varsity sports – all of them dedicated to excellence. The Rams are in the midst of a historic run of across-the-board success in both men’s and women’s athletics, and have positioned themselves to achieve even more in the coming years. The football program recently qualified for its fourth consecutive bowl game – the second longest such streak in school history. And the Rams are expected to be moved in 2017.

The volleyball team – the very model of sustained excellence – dominates the Mountain West Conference and has appeared in a remarkable 22 consecutive NCAA Tournaments. The Rams are immensely popular, regularly drawing large enthusiastic crowds that have pushed CSU into the top 15 nationally in attendance on an annual basis.

The women’s basketball program is a surging powerhouse, winning three consecutive conference titles and coming off a memorable season that included 30 wins and the Rams’ first Top 25 rankings in more than a decade.

The men’s basketball program draws raucous crowds and has earned postseason invitations in six of the past seven seasons.

CSU excels in both track and field and cross country. The men’s team has emerged as the dominant program in the Mountain West in both sports, and the women’s programs are right on their male counterparts’ heels. Producing All-Americans in both sports has become a regular occurrence.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES
Once every 50 years or so, CSU turns the campus and the surrounding Fort Collins area on its collective ear. And in 2017, it happens once again.

The highly anticipated on-campus stadium makes its official debut in September, hosting Abilene Christian in the football opener. The eye-popping facility, with room for 41,000 fans, replaces Hughes Stadium and becomes the Rams’ first on-campus football venue since 1967. The stadium, however, is much more than a place to play football. It will house classrooms and other academic space, the Michael & Iris Smith Alumni Center, and offices for athletic administration. It will host numerous special events, including the inaugural FORTitude 10K Labor Day Classic, which will be the first official event.

Moby Arena is the home of “Moby Madness” – a frenetic fan atmosphere that gives the Rams a distinct home-court advantage. Men’s and women’s basketball, along with the Rams’ volleyball team, play home games in Moby, which seats nearly 9,000 fans.

Women’s tennis has its home at the CSU tennis facility south of the main campus, and Jack Christiansen Track is home to the men’s and women’s track programs.

CSU also has an indoor practice facility used by all sports, as well as the Academic and Training Center at the McGraw Athletic Center.

CSUAthletics.com
The CSU Open House and Community Ice Cream Social wraps up the summer Lagoon Concert Series (see page 43) on Aug. 9. Then alumni and the entire Ram Family come back to campus for Homecoming Oct. 13-15.

The first Homecoming was Oct. 30, 1914, founded by then-President Charles Lory as a banquet for alumni. According to the 1914 Collegian, it was a relatively small affair, and the theme was “1944,” with everyone dressing up as if it were 30 years in the future.

Homecoming became a more prominent event for students and alumni in the 1930s. The weekend festivities started with a morning assembly, a freshmen initiation to the campus, the announcement of Homecoming royalty, a parade, and an evening dance. All of this preceded the main event of the weekend, the Homecoming football game.

In the years since, Homecoming has blossomed into a much broader event that includes:

- Family Weekend activities
- Class and organizational reunions
- The 50 Year Club Luncheon
- Festival on the Oval
- The parade, which starts in Old Town and concludes on campus
- Bonfire, fireworks, and the lighting of the “A”
- The annual Homecoming 5K race, which has been part of the festivities for more than 35 years, attracting more than 1,500 participants.
- Football tailgate and game at the new on-campus stadium

Since CSU’s founding in 1870, campus has grown from a single building on the outskirts of Fort Collins to five campuses covering about 4,900 acres. Some 100 academic and administrative buildings occupy the 579-acre main campus. Just to the south, veterinary students gain hands-on experience at the world-renowned James L. Voss Veterinary Teaching Hospital; to the north, the Powerhouse Energy Campus is home to cutting-edge research in all forms of energy. CSU students also have access to incredible learning opportunities at the Equine Teaching and Research Center on the 1,705-acre Foothills Campus, the 1,434-acre agricultural campus, and the 1,177-acre CSU Mountain Campus next to Rocky Mountain National Park. CSU dedicates another 3,994 acres to research centers and Colorado State Forest Service stations.

THE UNIVERSITY WELCOME CENTER IN AMMONS HALL

This charming, classical-style building is home to the Office of Admissions. It’s also the site of presentations to visitors and the starting point for student-led tours throughout the year.

CHARLES A. LORY STUDENT CENTER

The hub of campus life for more than 50 years, the Lory Student Center revitalization helps hold its place as one of the nation’s top student centers. From the signature ram head floating above the building’s spectacular two-story east entrance interior to the expanded Curfman Gallery, 21st Century Theatre (complete with retractable stadium seating), local and national food venues, and art paying tribute to the University’s pride and traditions, the LSC truly is a student CENTERED student center. With multiple spaces to eat • play • shop • relax • gather • learn, this expansive building truly serves as the campus community’s home away from home. Stop by the Information Desk for more information about the new and improved LSC.

THE OVAL

The Oval’s elm-shaded paths provide a pleasant space for visitors and students alike to amble, study, or relax. During his long tenure (1909-40), President Charles A. Lory conceived of the Oval to unify the CSU campus. Ringing the Oval are the University’s most historic buildings, including – counterclockwise from Ammons Hall (1921): The Institute for Learning and Teaching, formerly the Music Building (1927), the Weber Building (1922); the Statistics Building (1910); the Wagar Building (1939); the Administration Building (1924); Johnson Hall (1935); the Gibbons Building (1903); the Occupational Therapy Building (1919); Laurel Hall (1882); Guggenheim Hall (1910); and Danforth Chapel (1954). As the college grew into a university, the campus expanded westward.

MORGAN LIBRARY

Dominating the plaza, the Morgan Library houses more than 2 million books, journals, government documents, and other resources. The Electronic Information Center provides instructional labs, specialized assistive technology, public computer terminals, laptops that students can borrow, and the newest addition, the 24-hour study cube.

THE LAGOON

Many students find this a pleasant place to linger and enjoy the view of the foothills; it is also the site of the University’s free summer Lagoon Concert series. As you cross the Vietnam Memorial Bridge, think of Old Main, the first academic building on campus. After it burned down in 1970, some of its bricks were incorporated into the bridge.
LAUREL VILLAGE
Follow the path to Plum Street, turn left and continue west to Laurel Village, the newest residential community on campus, on the north side of the street. Laurel Village houses approximately 600 students, 400 in the College of Natural Sciences Residential Learning Community and 200 in the Year 2 @ CSU Community for returning students. Integrated classroom and study spaces support academic success and the Pavilion, the 24/7 community building in the center of the village, is the first building on CSU’s main campus to pursue LEED Platinum certification. The Pavilion features a katabatic tower, two-story living wall, a bike repair shop, a living slope, student research gallery, study spaces, and the Eco Leaders Sustainability Peer Education office.

MOBY ARENA
On the south side of Plum Street is Moby Arena, named for its resemblance to Herman Melville’s infamous whale. Moby is home to Rams volleyball, men’s and women’s basketball, and the Department of Health and Exercise Science. Connected to the arena on the west is the Thurman F. “Fum” McGraw Athletic Center, headquarters for the Department of Athletics. It includes facilities for weight training and sports medicine, along with a computer center and the ticket office.

ACADEMIC VILLAGE
This area is home to the Engineering and Honors Residential Learning Communities. It also features the award-winning Ram’s Horn Dining Center.

CSU HEALTH NETWORK
The health service is fully staffed and equipped to provide comprehensive outpatient care and counseling for students. Southwest of Hartshorn you’ll see a collection of residence halls, which are home to several of CSU’s 18 Residential Learning Communities. Residential Learning Communities allow students to live in an enriched learning environment with others who share similar academic majors or personal interests.

STUDENT RECREATION CENTER
In this recently renovated and expanded facility, students can take advantage of the climbing wall and bouldering cave, extensive weight and cardio exercise equipment, aquatic center, basketball/volleyball courts, fitness studios, and an indoor track, as well as outdoor courts for basketball, volleyball, and inline hockey. Personal trainers are available to help build an individualized fitness regimen.

UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR THE ARTS
This world-class facility consolidates music, dance, and theatre programs into one exquisite performance and learning venue, along with the new University Art Museum and the Avenir Museum of Design and Merchandising. Students approved a construction fee, which, along with private donations, covered the entire cost of renovating the former Fort Collins High School. The result is a regional cultural resource that includes concert and recital halls, theaters, museums and galleries, classrooms, offices, and research facilities.

ANNUAL FLOWER TRIAL GARDENS
Stroll through fragrant gardens where the CSU Department of Horticulture tests more than 1,000 annual bedding plants under rugged Rocky Mountain conditions. Since 2007, new perennial varieties have also been tested for hardiness as well as beauty. All this and a gorgeous view.

Other Local Campuses
FOOTHILLS CAMPUS
Located about three miles west of CSU’s main campus, the Foothills Campus is home to programs in atmospheric science and equine science, and includes numerous labs and facilities where some of the University’s most important research takes place.

VETERINARY TEACHING HOSPITAL
The James L. Voss Veterinary Teaching Hospital, at 300 W. Drake Road south of campus, is considered one of the finest veterinary hospitals in the world. It offers both small and large animal care, and houses the renowned Flint Animal Cancer Center.

POWERHOUSE ENERGY CAMPUS
The Powerhouse Energy Campus is north of campus on the other side of Old Town Fort Collins at 430 N. College Ave. The Powerhouse contains the remodeled Engines and Energy Conversion Lab as well as 65,000 square feet of new office and research space for CSU’s cutting-edge research in all forms of energy. The facility itself is a testbed for energy-efficient features, such as specialized LED lighting, a rooftop solar array, and a cooling system that does not use traditional air conditioning.

CSU MOUNTAIN CAMPUS
Located 50 miles west of Fort Collins, the 1,177-acre campus has been a field site for CSU’s natural resources students since 1916. At 9,000 feet above sea level the breathtaking area is adjacent to Rocky Mountain National Park in the Pingree Valley.

BE SAFE ON CAMPUS

The Colorado State University Police Department is a fully functional law enforcement agency composed of state-certified police officers, including a Patrol Division with officers on foot, bikes, motorcycles, and in squad cars, and an Investigations Unit with plain clothes detectives.

The main Fort Collins campus encompasses about one square mile, an area that is patrolled by police officers 24 hours a day throughout the year. All buildings on campus are routinely patrolled by foot, bicycle, motorcycle, and car, and University officers routinely patrol inside residence halls to achieve our community policing goals.

All 911 calls generated on campus go directly to the CSU Police 911 Center. CSU police generally respond to an emergency call on the main campus within a couple of minutes.

The Foothills Campus west of campus receives additional security from trained security officers through our federal government partners.

CSUPD works cooperatively with Fort Collins Police Services and Larimer County Sheriff’s Office.

All exterior doors in the residence hall system are monitored for proper position and alarmed; all external fire tower doors are designated “Emergency Exit Only” and will activate an alarm if opened. In addition, all doors to the residential living areas have access control. All community bathrooms have electronic key pad entry. Finally, front desk coverage in all residence halls is 24 hours a day, 7 days a week with on-site security patrols.

SAFEWALK

CSUPD also offers SafeWalk, a free service to all employees, students and guest, that provides an escort anytime from dusk til dawn from an on-campus location to another on-campus location, or within a three block radius of campus, by calling 970-491-1155.

XXX
STADIUM
The new 41,000 capacity, on-campus stadium at CSU will be more than a sports venue. It will be a building that captures the passion and vibrancy of campus, becoming a place for students, Rams fans and the community to learn, socialize and celebrate. The design of the multipurpose stadium ensures functionality for both game days and non-game days. The CSU Alumni Center and Center for Advising and Student Achievement (CASA) along with academic space are integrated into the design, ensuring the stadium will be in use year-round. The stadium will be open for the Rams first home game of the 2017 football season.

BIOLOGY BUILDING
Biology courses at CSU are among the university’s most heavily enrolled classes, but the department currently doesn’t have a dedicated building. The Biology building will be completed in late 2017, providing space for students, including the 1,400 biology majors on campus – the largest enrollment for any major at CSU. The building is primarily paid for with student fees.

CHEMISTRY BUILDING
The new Chemistry Research building, which will be completed in late fall 2017, will primarily provide research and teaching space for a field that is growing quickly in student interest and faculty research. The new building will provide additional laboratory and research areas for Chemistry faculty, which have outgrown the capacity of Yates Hall. It will include 60,000 square feet of modernized research capacity.

SOUTH COLLEGE PARKING GARAGE
This new parking garage expands the university’s capacity for faculty, staff, students and visitors. With easy access to MAX, the Oval and the university’s future Health and Medical Center, the garage will add an additional 650 spaces to the university’s current inventory.

HEALTH AND MEDICAL CENTER
The Health and Medical Center will be completed in late 2017 and provide an important gateway to campus, enhance medical services provided to students and the community, and bolster the university’s research into health care and medicine, particularly for aging populations. The four-story center on the corner of College Avenue and Prospect Road will include a space for a full range of medical, mental health and health education services to students; house public health care services provided by UC Health and Associates in Family Medicine, and a new Columbine Health Systems Center for Healthy Aging.

PROSPECT UNDERPASS
The university is currently working to complete an underpass at the intersection of Center Avenue and Prospect Road. The Prospect underpass will provide a safe pedestrian and bike crossing onto campus from nearby neighborhoods to the south, which are popular residential areas for students and employees.

BUS SERVICE
All CSU students and employees receive a free transit pass for the City of Fort Collins’ Transfort bus system, including the MAX bus rapid transit system. Transfort provides our students the opportunity to attend college without the economic burden of a personal vehicle. With a multitude of stops close to student living areas, Old Town, grocery stores, restaurants, and recreation activities are minutes away.

The CSU Transit Center was the first LEED Gold Certified building in Fort Collins. Here you can catch the free campus shuttle – Around the Horn – that loops between stops across campus every 10 minutes during the academic year.

Fort Collins’ seven-mile bus rapid transit system called MAX travels north to south along Mason Street, through the heart of campus and connects the main campus to the Veterinary Teaching Hospital and campus on the south side of town. MAX, with regular stops on and near campus, also connects students to rental housing opportunities across Fort Collins. If you live in Boulder or Denver, you can take FLEX to Fort Collins on weekdays.

CAMPUS PARKING
Visitors to campus may use metered or pay to park (hourly) parking with the appropriate payment, or any of the A, Q, W, X and Z parking areas with a properly displayed daily visitor permit. Daily Visitor Permits are available through Admissions for scheduled campus visits or for purchase at CSU Parking Services. Daily Visitor Permits are not valid at metered or hourly parking spaces. Improperly parked vehicles, including those without Daily Visitor Permits, will be ticketed. Visitors who receive parking tickets while on campus may inquire about appeals at CSU Parking and Transportation Services.

ZIPCAR
CSU has the wildly popular Zipcar vehicles on campus for short-term or day rentals. Members can easily reserve a vehicle from the fleet parked at various locations on campus to run errands or visit family and friends. Visitors must create a membership before they arrive on campus to take advantage of this service.

BIKE
Fort Collins is designated one of three Platinum-rated Bicycle Friendly Communities in the nation, and Colorado State University a Silver-rated Bicycle Friendly University, by the League of American Bicyclists. The campus has more than 15,000 bike parking spaces with a variety of bike lanes and share-use trails that help visitors traverse the campus. The Mason Trail provides convenient access through campus to Old Town and South Campus (the Veterinary Teaching Hospital). Visitors may wish to check out a free bike at the Fort Collins Bike Library at the city’s Downtown Transit Station or on campus at Surplus Property on Lake Street.

BE PART OF HISTORY

JOIN THE FIRST FORTITUDE 10K LABOR DAY CLASSIC

Runners, joggers, and walkers will come together on September 4, 2017 for a world-class running experience, holiday party, and one of the first chances to be on the field at the new stadium.

The course weaves through classic Fort Collins neighborhoods and landmarks like City Park, downtown, and the CSU oval. The new Sonny Lubick Field at CSU Stadium hosts the finish line ceremony and post-race festivities.

Space is limited, and we expect this to sell out. Register at FORTitude10K.com.

horsetoothreservoir.com
A 6.5 mile long reservoir, surrounded by over 2,000 acres of public land, more than 25 miles of non-motorized recreational trails. Lakeside camping at the South Bay Campground, boating, wake boarding/water skiing, fishing, swimming, hiking, and bicycling.

LORY STATE PARK
(970) 493-1623
parks.state.co.us/parks/lory
Eleven miles from Fort Collins, you can explore wide open scenic terrain in an adventurous landscape. 26 miles of scenic trails for hiking, mountain biking, horseback riding, Rock climbing and bouldering routes, back country camping, and picnicking. Entrance Fee: $7 per vehicle, $3 per person. Hours: 5a.m. to 8 p.m.

CACHE LA Poudre River
French for “hide the powder” the Cache La Poudre begins in Rocky Mountain National Park and flows north and east along the Front Range and meanders through Fort Collins. It is Colorado’s only designated “Wild and Scenic” river and is a popular destination for fly fishing, whitewater rafting, tubing, kayaking, picnicking, and hiking. The Cache La Poudre-North Park Scenic Byway is recognized as one of Colorado’s premier scenic highways. To get there take U.S. Highway 287 north to Colorado Highway 14.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN NATIONAL PARK
nps.gov/romo
Just 35 miles southwest of Fort Collins, Rocky Mountain National Park's 415 square miles of park encompasses majestic mountains, tundra wildflowers, abundant wildlife, and over 300 miles of hiking trails. Enjoy Trail Ridge Road (the highest paved road in the US), which crests over 12,000 feet including many overlooks to experience the subalpine and alpine worlds.

High Altitude – Be Aware
Fort Collins sits approximately 5,000 feet above sea level, so visitors should take some precautions. There's less oxygen at high altitude, so take it easy and remember to drink plenty of water. If you’re going to be outdoors for any length of time, particularly during the spring and summer months, remember to apply sunscreen. Skin burns easily in the thin air.
Love bikes? Great news, you’re going to love Fort Collins’ bike culture. The city has been named a platinum-level Bicycle Friendly Community by the League of American Bicyclists. With over 30 miles of paved bike trails within the Fort Collins city limits, most of which are connected to each other, it's possible to bike just about anywhere without ever hitting busy streets.

BIKE THE CITY
Fort Collins is home to more than 200 total miles of paved and unpaved bike lanes, trails, and paths. Perfect for the entire family and any level of rider.

DIDN'T BRING A BIKE?
Residents, students and visitors can borrow a bike from the Fort Collins Bike Library. A variety of bicycles plus tandems, trailers, and tag-a-longs for children are available at no charge. A credit card and valid I.D. are required for the service.

IN TOWN TRAILS

FOSSIL CREEK TRAIL
The Fossil Creek Trails runs, for more than five miles, between the Spring Creek Trail and Fossil Creek Reservoir. This trail is perfect if you are hoping to spot some wildlife during your visit as the trail cuts through the Cathy Fromme Prairie Natural Area.

MASON TRAIL
This trail is best if you are looking for a safe way to navigate Fort Collins on your bike without encountering motorists. Running through the CSU campus and almost four miles from Prospect Road to south of Harmony Road, this is a great option for those who prefer to bike instead of drive.

POUDRE TRAIL
This scenic trail stretches for more than 10 miles from Overland Trail at Lyons Park to East Drake Road at the Environmental Learning Center along the Cache la Poudre River. This trail is expected to expand toward I-25 over the next several years.

POWER TRAIL
The Power Trail begins at Edora Park in east Fort Collins and continues south to Golden Meadows Park, north of Harmony Road for more than three miles. This scenic trail runs along the historic Union Pacific Railroad.

SPRING CREEK TRAIL
This trail stretches from west Drake Road and meanders along the edge of Spring Creek for more than six miles until its confluence with Cache la Poudre River, at which point the Spring Creek Trail connects with the Power Trail.

THE ARTS

Fort Collins’ thriving arts community is easy to find in its many galleries, theaters, and concert halls. Be sure to walk through Old Town the first Friday of each month, when art museums and galleries stay open late to explore the community’s permanent collections as well as the latest work by local artists.

FIRST FRIDAY
Sponsored by the Downtown Fort Collins Arts District and local businesses and organizations, First Friday is one of the city’s most popular year-round events. Your chance to enjoy visual arts won’t end there, however. University and community museums, galleries, and co-ops all welcome visitors daily.

FORT COLLINS ART
The Fort Collins Museum of Art and Art Center of Fort Collins offer an on-going diverse series of exhibitions, community events, and educational programs for children and adults.

LIVE PERFORMANCES
The city also boasts a wide selection of live performances. The newly rebuilt Lincoln Center, with its two performance spaces, offers lectures, dance recitals, symphonies, operas, Broadway musicals, and theater.

UNIVERSITY CENTER FOR THE ARTS
Just east of the main campus, CSU’s University Center for the Arts boasts similar range with a mix of student and professional productions of music, dance, and theater that range from the classical to avant garde. Many UCA graduates continue their careers at local repertories, which perform everything from whimsical dinner theater to Pulitzer Prize-winning plays to Shakespeare.

TOUR FORT COLLINS

Discover Fort Collins! Tours are a great way to experience Fort Collins and there are plenty of options. Choose from historic, gallery, food, ghost, adventure, or tour Fort Collins’ famous breweries.

HISTORIC WALKING TOUR OF OLD TOWN FORT COLLINS
FortCollinsTours.com
TheMagicBusTours.com
Fort Collins’ Historic Walking Tours in Old Town are offered year round. Historic Walking Tours include guided walks through Old Town Fort Collins. Along the way, you will learn about local legends and history of Fort Collins.

OLD TOWN GHOST TOURS
Hauntedfortcollins.com
TheMagicBusTours.com
Ghost tours include guided evening walks through Old Town Fort Collins. Along the way, you will learn about local legends, hauntings, ghostly sightings, and strange happenings. Tours start in the Old Town Square in front of the Visitor’s Center and last approximately 90 minutes.

DOWNTOWN FORT COLLINS FOODIE WALK
Downtownfortcollins.com
A culinary adventure in a beautiful historic pedestrian area of the city. The Fort Collins Foodie Walk is a self-guided walk that occurs each month and will feature new presentations, tasting opportunities, and themes each month. The Fort Collins Foodie Walk offers a way for people to explore and enjoy the world of food and spices!

FARM TO TABLE TOUR
TheMagicBusTours.com
Fort Collins’ agricultural roots run deep though the hearts of many local growers, ranchers, and artisans who proudly produce tasty food in our own backyard every day. The Farm to Table Tour features a visit to local small scale food producers while enjoying tasty samples along the way. Tours may visit mushroom growers, beekeepers, cheese makers, fish farmers, grass fed beef ranchers, and a multitude of organic farms.

FIRST FRIDAY GALLERY TOUR
Downtownfortcollins.com
On the first Friday of every month Downtown art galleries and museums extend their hours of operation and fling wide their doors during the evening hours, to showcase local, regional, national, and international art on display. Experience paintings, sculptures, exhibits, photos, and more, with many of the gallery owners on hand to share their expertise (and sometimes, a snack!) with the crowds that stroll the city streets on self-guided gallery tours.

BREWERY TOURS
TheMagicBusTours.com
Downtownfortcollins.com
Learn about beer styles, beer tasting, and lots of useless beer trivia on a guided tour to Fort Collins' infamous breweries. Get a behind the scenes look at the beer making process and sample local craft beers. Bus, shuttle, and walking tours available.
SHOPPING

CITY OF VARIETY

DOWNTOWN
DowntownFortCollins.com
Shopping in Downtown is an adventure fueled by the imaginations and interests of the local owners who occupy its Victorian-era buildings. On College Avenue, you can find fashion from eco-friendly to funky to chic, exotic spices and oils, natural and organic foods, rocks and minerals, toys, imports from the all corners of the globe, handcrafted furniture and home decor, specialty kitchen items, yard and gardening tools, hiking and biking gear, even newspapers and magazines from around the world. You will need a break, so drop into one of the coffee or dessert shops sprinkled throughout the district.

FOOTHILLS
Shopfoothills.com
As one of the largest retail construction projects in the country, Foothills redevelopment is in full swing. The center is bringing a new look, new stores and new restaurants to Fort Collins and also features a state-of-the-art movie theatre.

FRONT RANGE VILLAGE
ShopFrontRangeVillage.com
Located on Harmony Road, you can find everything from food to apparel and even the Council Tree branch of the Fort Collins public library. With a thorough mix of department stores, like Super Target, as well as more local features like Mary’s Mountain Cookies and Pablo’s Pizza, Front Range Village has something for everyone. And with the contemporary main street feel and the small dog park this is truly a place where the whole family will feel comfortable.

Microbreweries offering a selection of award-winning craft beers are a keystone of the Fort Collins culture, which is how it got the nickname “Napa Valley of Beer.” Tap rooms, overflowing with laughter and camaraderie, are frequented by visitors and natives alike.

Be sure to include a brewery tour if you are interested in experiencing unique flavors and learning more about the way craft brews are made. Whether you are an out-of-towner or a local enthusiast, you will find something incredible to pique your interest.

Fort Collins is home to more than 20 craft breweries and distilleries. Beer tours available, see page 40 for more information.

NIGHTLIFE

AFTER DARK

From dusk to well after midnight, Fort Collins’ streets are lined with a diverse crowd of night owls. The city comes alive, enticing visitors and locals to gather around the good food and drinks, live music, art, and the city’s street life.

For family-friendly fun, the south and midtown areas offer the best of local and national restaurants and recreation, such as bowling, arcades, and movie theaters.

While it is also the live music district, Old Town offers some of the best laid back nightlife in town as well. Martini, tapas, and craft beer bars, which often include jazz or acoustic music, local fine arts theaters and late-night coffee shops provide plenty of options for a relaxing evening out.

But make no mistake, Fort Collins can rock. During the spring and summer, you'll catch the nightlife vibe everywhere in Old Town. Those smaller events are a nice addition to what seems like an never-ending list of outdoor concerts and festivals, including Bohemian Nights at NewWestFest, a late-summer mashup of 80 local and national music acts playing across the downtown area over three nights - all for free.

If you’ve fallen in love with Fort Collins, you’re not alone. The city is annually ranked as one of the best places to live in America by a wide variety of publications.

So what’s next? It’s finding that perfect place to live, whether buying a home for your family or a rental as you pursue your college degree. Either way, there are plenty of options.

The housing market in Fort Collins is robust. According to Realtor.com, the Fort Collins real estate market has an average home price of $444,360. At their current point, home prices are actually 32.5 percent higher than the average sales price ($335,431). The average home price per square foot in Fort Collins is $155.

The rental market is also active, with a host of new complexes geared specifically to students boasting a wide variety of amenities, from spas to health club facilities to swimming pools. Many of the new complexes are near the MAX transit centers, a boon for those who want to keep their transportation costs at a minimum. The rental market also covers a wide range of prices. According to national real estate websites, the average rental price in Fort Collins is approximately $750 per bedroom near campus and downtown, but less expensive options are available for those willing to live a little farther from the CSU campus.
